1) INTRODUCTION

Disability Sports Coach (DSC) acknowledges the duty of care to safeguard and promote the welfare of children and young people and is committed to ensuring safeguarding practice reflects statutory responsibilities, government guidance and complies with best practice within the UK Sport and Leisure sector.

The policy recognises that the welfare and interests of children are paramount in all circumstances. It aims to ensure that regardless of age, ability or disability, gender reassignment, race, religion or belief, sex or sexual orientation, socio-economic background, all children:

- have a positive and enjoyable experience of sport at Disability Sports Coach sessions in a safe and child centred environment
- are protected from abuse whilst participating in the activities provided by Disability Sports Coach.

Disability Sports Coach acknowledges that some children, including disabled children and young people or those from ethnic minority communities, can be particularly vulnerable to abuse and we accept the responsibility to take reasonable and appropriate steps to ensure their welfare.

As part of our safeguarding policy Disability Sports Coach will:

- promote and prioritise the safety and wellbeing of children and young people
- ensure everyone understands their roles and responsibilities in respect of safeguarding and is provided with appropriate learning opportunities to recognise, identify and respond to signs of abuse, neglect and other safeguarding concerns relating to children and young people
- ensure appropriate action is taken in the event of incidents/concerns of abuse and support provided to the individual/s who raise or disclose the concern
- ensure that confidential, detailed and accurate records of all safeguarding concerns are maintained and securely stored
- prevent the employment/deployment of unsuitable individuals
- ensure robust safeguarding arrangements and procedures are in operation.

The policy and procedures will be widely promoted and are mandatory for everyone involved in Disability Sports Coach. Failure to comply with the policy and procedures will be addressed without delay and may ultimately result in dismissal/exclusion from the organisation.

Monitoring

The policy will be reviewed a year after development and then every three years, or in the following circumstances:

- changes in legislation and/or government guidance
- as required by the Local Safeguarding Children Board, UK Sport and/or Home Country Sports Councils
- as a result of any other significant change or event.

All Disability Sports Coach employees and sub-contractors must read this policy and sign to confirm they have read and understood the document.

DSC staff have an important role to play in the recognition and referral stage of safeguarding and protecting children and young people.

A large number of our clients are children and it is, therefore, necessary to ensure that DSC has guidelines in place to ensure their welfare. DSC staff need to know the procedures should they follow in the event of suspected child or abuse taking place.

DSC employees are in a good position to watch out for and report any abuse or suspected abuse. The children who attend sport sessions on a regular basis may form friendships with DSC staff. It is possible that children and will confide in staff, particularly because of our regular visits. We are also able to perceive sudden changes in the participants' behavioural or physical well being over time.

The principle of the child protection laws (Children Act 1989) is that the welfare of the child is paramount. Under the law we are obligated to put children's interests first and the appropriate Social Services Department must be informed if abuse is suspected. Furthermore, guidance from "Working Together" (2015) underpins the charity's duty to recognise and report child safeguarding concerns.

It is not a DSC's employee's role to investigate any abuse, just to report it first to DSC's lead Safeguarding Officer. The matter will then be considered and appropriate action taken.

Only Social Services departments, the NSPCC and the Police have the statutory power to investigate when a child is considered to be at risk.

Our duty of care is to report such suspicions or information.

All staff should be aware of their legal position when it comes to child protection, including the Children Act 1989 and Occupiers Liability Act 1954 and 1984.

Working with Disabled Children and Young People

DSC's safeguarding responsibilities are further heightened because all its participants are disabled and there is considerable evidence to suggest that disabled people are more at risk, in safeguarding terms, than their able-bodied peers. They are also less likely to receive the protection and support they need when they have been abused.

The NSPCC "We have the right to be safe": Protecting Children from Abuse report (Miller D, Brown J, October 2014) identified the following factors that increase risk and lessen protection for disabled children and young people:

- attitudes and assumptions – e.g. a reluctance to believe disabled children are abused; minimising the impact of abuse; and attributing indicators of abuse to the child's impairment
- barriers to the disabled child and their family accessing support services
- issues related to a child's specific impairment – e.g. dependency on a number of carers for personal or intimate care; impaired capacity to resist/avoid abuse, difficulties in communicating; and an inability to understand what is happening or to seek help
- limited opportunities for disabled children to seek help from someone else
- a lack of professional skills, expertise and confidence in identifying child protection concerns and the lack of an effective child protection response.

Definitions

Any child with a disability is by definition a 'child in need' under section 17 of the Children Act 1989.

The Disability Discrimination Act 2005 (DDA) and the Equality Act 2010 define a disabled person as someone who has:

"A physical or mental impairment which has a substantial and long term adverse effect on his or her ability to carry out normal day to day activities".

For the purposes of this document, a disabled child or young person will refer to anyone accessing DSC's activities who is up to the age of 18.

2) Recognising Abuse

This policy will be used whenever a DSC employee/ sub-contractor has concern about the welfare of a child or young person. The action will depend on the nature of the concern.

A child may make a disclosure of information to a DSC employee concerning their physical or emotional welfare, or make a comment about a bruise or other injury. It may be straightforward or it may be indirect but it is important to understand that children almost never lie about abuse.

All disclosures must be taken seriously, the member of staff must make it clear to the child that the information cannot be kept a secret and that if something harmful is being done, it can be stopped. It is important to acknowledge that this is likely to be very difficult for the child to acknowledge and confide such matters.

Always be ready to listen.

A member of staff may receive information concerning a child's welfare from another person or another child. Again, such information should be taken seriously and reported first to DSC's lead Safeguarding Officer, who will decide what action, if any, to be taken.

In the event of the lead Safeguarding Officer being unavailable, all matters should be reported to DSC's Chief Executive.

Recognising abuse can often be difficult and employees may be reluctant to report suspicion, for fear of reprisal. The following key points need to be adhered to:

- Everybody has a responsibility to report suspected or alleged abuse.
- Individuals should take note, not only of major incidents, but also of signals, which make them feel somewhat suspicious or concerning.
- Report also if there is a worrying change in a child's behaviour. Your intuition as well as observation will be taken seriously.
- Discuss any worries, however unspecific, with DSC's lead Safeguarding Officer. Please do not keep any worries to yourself.
- All such worries will be recorded.
- Great caution should be exercised in the presence of children and young people. The presence of symptoms does not mean it is inevitable that a child is being abused.

After reporting a suspicion, the lead Safeguarding Officer and you may be asked to attend a case conference with Social Services. Schools may also have their own procedures that they abide by and that also may involve you.

Categories of abuse

Abuse can include:

- Physical abuse
- Neglect
- Sexual abuse
- Emotional abuse

(1) Physical assault:

Definition, "The actual or likely physical injury to a person, or a failure to prevent physical injury or suffering to a person."

(2) Neglect:

Definition, "Persistent or severe neglect of a person."

Alerting signs or symptoms:

The physical indicators of neglect can include:

- Abnormalities of skin and hair
- Poor hygiene
- Hunger
- Non-school attendance
- Missed appointments

The behavioural indicators of severe neglect are:

Updated June 2017

- Severe withdrawal state
- Food scavenging (in bins), stealing etc

(3) Sexual abuse:

Definition, "Sexual abuse involves forcing or enticing a child or vulnerable adult to take part in sexual activities including prostitution, whether or not the child is aware of what is happening. The activities may involve physical contact, including penetrative or non-penetrative acts. They may include non-contact activities, such as involving children in looking at, or in the production of, pornographic material or watching sexual activities, or encouraging children to behave in sexually inappropriate ways"

Alerting signs or symptoms:

- Hints at having sexual activity or having uncomfortable secrets
- They may behave in a sexual manner or speak with sexual words. Sexual promiscuity
- Severe eating disorders in older children
- Suicide attempts, self mutilating behaviour
- Fire raising
- Running away

(4) Emotional abuse:

Definition, "The serious adverse effect on the emotional and behavioural development of a person, caused by persistent or severe emotional ill-treatment or rejection".

Alerting signs or symptoms:

- Severe withdrawal state
- Severe aggressive state
- Bullying
- Scapegoating
- Name calling

3) Reporting Abuse

Levels of concern:

- (1) Concern but no obvious injury or direct allegation
- (2) Suspicious injuries and behaviour.
- (3) Disclosed information.

In all incidences contact DSC's lead Safeguarding Officer first.

If there is Disclosed Information the Police will be contacted immediately by the lead Safeguarding Officer.

Remember, we must NOT try to investigate the matter ourselves where there is a strong suspicion of physical or sexual abuse. Leave this to the Police and or Social Services.

Appendix 1 shows the standard from that is required to make a referral to Social Services.

4) ALLEGATIONS ABOUT A MEMBER OF STAFF

All complaints of child abuse against DSC employees will be handled swiftly and sensitively.

If an allegation concerning physical or sexual abuse is made about a DSC staff, the lead Safeguarding Officer will seek advice from the Social Services Office or Police Child Protection Unit, informing them of the incident and to discuss the necessary action to be taken.

If there is a concern about DSC's lead Safeguarding Officer, the issue must be reported to the charity's Chief Executive.

The DSC staff member will be informed. This must be done without questioning the employee about the complaint and making it clear that they have the right to be accompanied by representation, or friend at all stages.
